Here are items you may want to review before sending in your photography

1. In addition to the "big view" never miss the close up details.
2. Tidy up. Take care of neglected pruning, snip off bad leaves, edge the lawn, sweep paved areas, pull weeds.
3. Show details of construction, both in building and in landscape.
4. Shoot from eye level. "Bird's-eye" views are helpful in showing the overall landscape as well.
5. Look for interesting shadow play.
6. Accessorize completely.
7. Ignore distant foliage movement, watch close-up leaves.
8. Sunlight makes daytime easy, but don't overlook nighttime.
9. While horizontal shots give a broader view, remember it is vertical pictures that work best for advertising and publishers.
10. Along with photographs, include what the customer requested.
11. Entries must be from work completed between October 2023 and October 2024.
